

Put Yourself in Their Shoes

One of the best ways to try to understand a person is to put yourself in his place. One at a time, draw a slip of paper from the envelope and tell how you would feel if you were this person and what some of your difficulties might be. Then tell how you would like people to treat you.

(You can always add more situations if needed.)

person with a speech impediment	person with a facial deformity	elderly person living alone
blind person	person confined to a wheelchair	refugee
mentally challenged person	deaf person	